Swimming Among Sharks.

A traveler whose vessel had anchored off the coast of Arabia, two-thirds of the distance down the Red Sea, describes in the Youth's Companion a perilous game of the urchins of that region. Going on deck in the morning he noticed some bobbing black objects in the water and said to the captain: "What are those things swimming? Sharks, I suppose?"

"Well, land-sharks you might call 'em, p'r'aps. Take my glass and try again."

A look through the glass speedily transformed the black objects into the faces of Arab children who were apparently not more than 5 or 6 years old. The vessel was at least a mile from the shore and the water was deep enough at any point to drown the very tallest of these adventurers.

The Liliputian swimmers drew near with shrill cries and elfish laughter; when a final stroke of their lean arms had brought them alongside, there arose a universal chorus of "piastre, howadji!" (a penny, sir!)

"Chuck 'em a copper and you'll see something good," said the captain.

One was tossed into the water and instantly the smooth, bright surface was dappled with a forest of tiny brown toes, all turning up at once as the boy divers plunged together.

By this time the entire crew had assembled to witness the sport, and a shower of exclamations was to be heard: "There's one of 'em got it."

"No, he ain't."

"Yes, he has! I see him a-coming up with it!"

The successful diver rose, and was at once surrounded by three or four piratical comrades, who did their best to snatch away the hard-won coin. As the boy reached the surface, he held up his prize triumphantly, and then popped it into his mouth, his only pocket.

In a moment a crafty comrade swam up behind and tickled him under the chin, whereupon the mouth opened and out dropped the coin into the water. A genuine fight and scramble ensued, while the air rang with shouts and laughter.

Meantime two sharks appeared at a perilous short distance from the excited divers, but their presence seemed to produce no effect whatever upon the urchins.

"Aren't they afraid of sharks?" asked the traveler of the captain.

"Not they. They make too much row for any shark to come near them. Sharks are easy scared, for all they're so savage."

But the observers, unaccustomed to the boys' game, would scarcely have cared to trust to a shark's timidity.

Max Nirdlinger left last evening for the eastern markets where he will be engaged for some time in manufacturing the fall and winter stock for Sam, Pete & Max. The attractions for the coming season will surpass any yet offered by this enterprising firm. d&wlt

EDITORIAL COMMENT

On the Speech Delivered by George William Curtis Before the National Civil Service League at Newport.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—In concluding its editorial on the address of Mr. George William Curtis before the National Civil Service league, the Times, says: "When all allowance has been made for the president on account of difficulties of his task and the tremendous pressure of the politicians activity and party interest, it would be well if he could be induced to reflect upon the sources of his own strength. What carried him to his present position was not seeking to advance his own interests by expedients of practical politicians, but relying confidently for support on an honest, courageous and faithful performance of public duty."

The Tribune says: "Are the mugwumps getting ready to desert the Cleveland ship? It certainly looks so, and judging from the speech which George William Curtis delivered yesterday he will be the first man to retreat over the gang plank."

The Sun says: "As between George William Curtis, mugwump, and a large number of democrats, it must be said that Mr. Curtis shows a greater disposition to tell the truth."

The World says: "Frank admission of facts long ignored by mugwump supporters of the president is directly on the line with what the World has been saying for a long time past. The president has been a reformer in works chiefly. The very general partisan reconstruction of civil service has continued the precedent under which republicans would again seize the offices upon a change of administration.

The Herald makes no editorial comment on the address.

The Kentucky Elections.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 4.—Additional reports this morning do not give any indications of the election. As far as we can judge the democratic losses are due to the confidence and indifference in the democratic party, and the unusually good organization on the part of the republicans. The republicans voted and the democrats stayed at home. Our returns are from fifty-six counties, which cast sixty per cent. of the whole vote of the state. The republican vote in the counties reporting is a little over sixty per cent. of the total, and the democratic vote is a little over 58. These fifty-six counties show a loss from Cleveland's majority, 34,839, of 7,710. If the ratio of gains and losses continue the same for the remaining forty per cent. the net democratic loss will be 12,850, leaving Buckner a majority over Bradley of 21,-989.

Bad Jane Butler.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 4.—A shooting occurred at No. 791 Center street last night at about 10:50 o'clock, in which Jane Butler, a negro woman about thirty three years of age, shot and badly wounded William Patterson, also colored, with whom she has been living. The ball struck Patterson just over the right eye and ranged around his forehead, coming out at the upper part of the left temple, inflicting a severe wound. The woman escaped and was not captured.

A Mexican Murder.

EL PASO, Tex., Aug. 3. Mrs. Maese, widow of the late Juan Maese, one of the wealthiest and most influential citizens of northern Mexico, was murdered at her residence, near Paso Del Norte this afternoon. The deed is supposed to have been committed by a man named Telles, an illegitimate son of the late Mr. Maese. By the law of Mexico Telles would get a share of the estate in case of the widow's death. Telles is under arrest.

New Mileage Tickets.

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—A new form of mileage tickets, reducing passenger rates to two cents per mile, has been issued by the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago railroad. The tickets can be used by a firm or by a man and his family.

Murdered by a Cuban Negro.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Thomas Byrnes, the survivor of the two men who were shot last night in Thompson street by John Carrell Caroner, the Cuban negro, died this morning in Chambers street hospital.

Emin Bey's Prospects.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—Emin Bey, the African explorer, wrote from Wadelai under date of February 10, 1887, that his prospects were hopeful, and that he was about to start for the Kabaregas country.

Death of Hon. Allen Francis.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., Aug. 4.—Hon. Allen Francis, United States consul, who was struck by a hose cart at the recent railway disaster here and badly injured, died suddenly at 12:10 o'clock this morning.

Signed the Charter.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 4.—General Master Workman Powderly has signed the charter applied for by the Iron Workers National assembly. It will be issued in a few days.

The Fishery Question.

TORONTO, Aug. 4.—A cable despatch from London to the Globe says: "Fresh proposals for the settlement of the fisheries dispute have recently been submitted to the government by the authorities at Washington. They were approved at Ottawa and have been favorably received by the imperial government, but they are still under consideration.

Paul Brother's New Grocery.

One of the neatest, cleanest and best appointed groceries in the city is that of Paul Brothers which opened this morning at 23 W. Columbia street. A SENTINEL reporter, who inspected the stock, was pleased with the evidence of thorough management displayed. The stock is exceedingly well selected and embraces all kinds of staple and fancy groceries. Provisions and country produce of the freshest and best character will always be found there. The Paul Brothers are exceedingly popular young gentlemen and will give every attention to business. There is no reason why the grocery should not attract much trade. The public is invited to the opening this evening.

Two Tramps Killed.

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 4.—A collision of two freight trains occurred yesterday on the Burlington and Missouri river road between North Bend and Ashland. Both engines and thirteen cars were thrown over the embankment into North Platte river. Two tramps stealing a ride were killed. Engineers and firemen escaped by jumping.

Fatal Explosion.

GREEN BAY, Wis., Aug. 4.—A beer kettle in Rhaers' brewery exploded at 8:30 last night, scalding seven men, six of whom died during the night.

THE MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—The stock market opened very active and strong with advances from ¼ to 1½ per cent. The latter Lake Shore rise culminated about 10:40 a. m., when prices were from ¼ to ⅜ above opening, and after that time the market yielded, and part of the improvement was lost. At 11 o'clock the market was quiet and heavy, generally at small fractions above first prices.

Destruction of Babylon.

The following is taken from the American Cyclopedia: The last successor of Nebuchadnezzar, Nabonadius, joined the league formed to check the threatening power of Persia. This brought upon him the invasion of Cyrus. Having associated with himself in the Government his son Belshazzar, Nabonadius, leaving him in command of Babylon, advanced to meet Cyrus. Being defeated in the field, he threw himself into Borsippa, while Cyrus advanced to the siege of Babylon. The city was provisioned for a long siege, and the strength of its walls defied direct assault. It was taken only by the strategem of diverting the river from its course, and marching in through its dry bed. Heredotus relates that Cyrus turned the Euphrates into the great reservoir excavated by Nitocris. This appears incredible, for even assuming the existence of this reservoir, its waters must have been on a level with those of the river, and no cutting could have laid bare the river bed. Xenophon, a much better authority in this matter, says that Cyrus drained the bed by means of two cuttings of his own, from a point above the city to another below it. If we suppose that the river was not the Euphrates itself, but a bayou or side branch, shallower than the river, the whole operation becomes perfectly comprehensible. He had only to dam up the mouth of the bayou above the city, and deepen the channel below by which it re-entered the Euphrates. In an hour after cutting away the bulkhead below, the channel would be dry. This was done in the dead of night. It was a complete surprise. So confident were the besieged in the impregnibility of their outer defenses that they neglected to close the water-gates which fronted the river at the foot of each street, and Belshazzar and his court passed the night in revelry. When morning dawned the inner defenses had all fallen into the hands of the besiegers (538). Cyrus, having dismantled Babylon, moved upon Bosippa, still held by Nabonadius, who surrendered and received kind treatment. Cyrus assigned him a residence and estate in Caramania, where the last king of Babylon ended his days in peace. For a time Babylon was a royal residence of the Persian kings. Two attempts were made to revolt, and each time Babylon stood a siege and was further dismantled. It ceased to be a royal city; its brick walls and palaces fell into decay; and when Alexander the Great took possession of it it was comparatively a ruin. He intended to restore the city and make it his Asiatic Capital, but his death prevented the execution of his scheme.

A SYSTEM of weather observation on a small scale has been established in Brazil, records from fifteen stations now being regularly communicated to the observatory of Rio Janeiro.

FIERCE FLAMES!

Destroys Two Squares of the Business Portion of Bowling Green, O., and Works Death and Ruin at Baltimore.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Aug. 4.—At 3 o'clock this morning, a telegraphic call for aid was received by the Toledo fire department, from Bowling Green, Wood county, eighteen miles distant, and an engine was at once dispatched by a special train. The flames originated in a bakery, in some unknown manner, and before they were gotten under control had destroyed twenty-two buildings embracing two squares of the business portion of the town, including one hotel, one marble works, livery stable, furniture store, harness shop, two wagon shops and a carriage shop and a number of offices and minor buildings. The total loss is about thirty five thousand dollars insured for about two thirds.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 4.—The extensive cracker bakery of James D. Mason & Sons was entirely destroyed this morning by fire, with all its contents and machinery, and also the building adjoining, occupied by Henderson, Laws & Co, dealers in crackers, cakes and candies. William Schulte, the foreman of engine No. 12, was buried beneath the ruins and killed. Chief Engineer Hennick was seriously injured and his death is feared. The flames continued to shread on the right to the stove warehouse of Liebrandt, McDowell & Co., which was destroyed and the agricultural warehouse of Whitman & Sons, the upper part of which was burned out. On the left of the building in which the fire originated, the book and stationery store of Newton Kurtz & Son, containing a large stock, burned, and all the upper floors of the grain and produce commission house of E. B. Owens & Co. was destroyed. The fire spread to the south and took hold of the rear of the tin warehouse of E. L. Parker & Co., fronting on Charles street, which was wrecked and the stock ruined. The damage is estimated at $60,000. The entire damage is now estimated at $500,-000.

CAIRO, Ill., Aug. 4.—Fires are raging in Manhattan township and hundreds of acres of pasture and stubble fields have been burned, and a large area of wood. The farmers are fighting it furiously and the creeks have all gone dry.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 4.—A fire this morning damaged the extensive saddlery hardware manufactory of Frazier & Jones company to the amount of $10,-000. It is covered by insurance.

Railroad Wreck.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 4.—The west bound coke train on the Pennsylvania railroad was wrecked in Carpenter's tunnel, nineteen miles east of this city, last night and the main tracks were blocked from six to ten hours. The accident was caused by a broken axle. Eleven cars were wrecked and a brakeman named Chaddington is feared to be fatally injured. The tracks were not cleared until late this morning and trains east and west bound were sent over the Western Pennsylvania road to Blairsville Junction.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, August 4.—Indiana, fair weather in southern portion, local rains in northern portion, generally cooler.

IN THE BUSY WORLD.

Personal Points and Pithy Paragraphs Picked up Around the Shops and Railroads of the City.

Refrigerator cars are in demand.

The railroad ticket agents are kept busy.

There is still a scarcity of freight cars on all of the railroads.

The railroads are constantly engaged in repairing their tracks.

John McGowan, the Pittsburg boilermaker, is still on the sick list.

B. Armack, the Pittsburg machanist, excurted to Rome City yesterday.

The Grand Rapids road is having a good passenger travel to the northern resorts.

The Bass works shipped a new boiler and a 12x24 slide valve engine to Muncie to-day.

Some of the prominent railroad officials are enjoying their vacations at summer resorts.

The Nickel Plate does not get the benefit from excursion travel that the other roads do.

The clerks in the railroad offices wipe the perspiration from their brow and mutter: "What fearful weather."

F. Olds, a machinist in the Pittsburg, is off duty to-day. Too much watermelon don't seem to agree with him.

Rome City has the advantage of Warsaw during the session of the assembly, and the travel to the former place is the greater at present.

James Fry, of the Pittsburg store house tells us a good story of a fragrant magnolia, but "for goodness sake don't say I told you of it."

All grain is shipped from the Pacific states and territories in bags. Last year 36,000,000 bags were used, and the prospects are that a larger number will be used this year. The railroads aid in furnishing the bags.

The employes in the shops are taking kindly to oat meal water.

Some of the men in the shops are taking their summer vacation.

Will Seybold, of the organ factory, will take a two weeks' vacation at Maxinouckee and Chicago.

If there are any class of men who want rain, it is those who are employed in the shops and on the railroads.

George Leeck has resigned his position in the Bass machine shop to accept a place in the Pennington works.

All the manufacturing establishments use the water works freely in sprinkling this hot weather, and they need it.

Bert White, of the Pittsburg shops, who has been enjoying the cool breezes of the Michigan climate, has returned.

Patrick Ryan was injured while working around a locomotive in the Pittsburg shops yesterday and had his ankle dislocated.

F. A. Anstrop, of the Wabash carpenter shop, had a finger of his right hand injured while at work yesterday and an amputation of the member was found necessary.

John Daley, one of the machinists in the Bass works, is a fine singer and his melodious voice is heard so often that the boys have dubbed him "The sweet singer of Israel."

Harry Hayes, a machist in the Bass works, is at Paulding, O., setting up two boilers and an engine at that place. Next Sunday he will be joined by Charley Taylor, a Pittsburg machinist, and the two will go on a wild goose chase through the woods of Paulding county.

During one of the recent extremely hot days the rails on the Grand Trunk railroad, expanded with the heat until they diverged nearly a foot and a half wider than the regular gange. Luckily it was discovered by a section man in time to flag the east bound morning express, otherwise a serious accident might have taken place.

Hugh Hogan, one of the machinists in the Pittsburg shop, surprised his foreman and fellow workman this morning by setting the guides four inches too high and erecting the smoke stack upside down. Inquiry revealed the fact that a ten pound boy had arrived at his house yesterday, and Hugh is being congratulated on all sides.

W. H. Rodeheaver, the superintendent of White's wheel works, is driven to his work in a buggy every morning and returned home again every evening by his daughter, Miss Emma Rodeheaver, who is the accomplished stenographer at Olds' wheel works. Miss Emma knows how to handle the reins, as she also does the stenographer's pen and the type writer.

That popular Pittsburg machinist known in the shops as "Jockey" and a friend conceived the idea that yesterday, above any other day, would be the time and Rome City the place to hear "Our Bob" Ingersoll. In order that there happiness might be complete they forwarded the necessary ducats to their fair damsels at Elkhart in due time, so that nothing might deter them from being on hand also. Imagine their surprise and chagrin, however when the train from Elkhart pulled into Rome City with everybody seemingly aboard except their best girls, nor were they at that resort at all. If you want to see 'Jockey" get on his ear just ask him if he heard Ingersoll in his celebrated lecture.

The Canal Question.

To the Editor of The Sentinel.

You are in error in saying that in the few remarks made at the special council meeting the other evening I advocated the purchase of the canal. I said I thought the question of an ample supply of water was one of great importance, which should be settled at once and permanently, that I was inclined to think the St. Joe river the most available source of supply. I confess I am considerably at sea, Mr. Editor, as to the advisability of the purchase of the canal. In common with many of our citizens, I regret that this canal question, whenever it comes up, awakens only bad blood. It ought to be considered impartially. The canal owners are among the heaviest tax payers in Fort Wayne. Their interests cannot be very widely separated from those of the community at large. I believe they, and those of our citizens who think with them, conscientiously believe the best interests of the city would be secured by the purchase of the canal, and I have no question that other of our citizens are just as conscientiously opposed to its purchase. This being the case let us stop calling each other fools, ringsters and thieves and endeavor like sensible people and good neighbors to settle the question on its merits. D. N. FOSTER.

Virginia Democrats.

ROANOKE, Aug. 4.—The democratic state convention of Virginia assembled at 12 o'clock. Hon. John S. Barbour, chairman of the state executive committee, addressed the convention.

A Woman Fiend.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 4.—Mrs. Projak, a Bohemian woman, this morning drowned her one-year-old child in a bath tub and then cut her throat with a razor.

Business Failure.

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 4.—The John Fearnly Manufacturing company, on Oehler street, making wheelbarrows, assigned to-day. Liabilities, $28,000, assets, $19,000; preference, $17,000.

A DRUNKEN DEMON!

Daniel Drew Kills an Old Man at Lafayette with a Shovel and Hatchet And Then Assaults His Own Wife.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Aug. 4.—In a drunken frenzy at midnight, Daniel Drew assaulted an old man named John Mackessy with a shovel and hatchet, mutilating him frightfully and inflicting injuries which caused death a few hours later. Drew also cut his wife seriously with the same instruments. He is under arrest. He has a bad reputation and has been in a number of recent affrays. His victim is a quiet, inoffensive citizen.

LOCAL NEWS.

The striking Gazette printers will issue a paper next Sunday morning.

George Lipely was arraigned before Justice France for provoking Elizabeth Watercock.

The young men's sodality of the Cathedral will have a big excursion to Rome City this month.

The funeral of the late Oliver H. Morgan occurred this afternoon, but too late for specific notice.

Mr. J. W. Hunter, the master of transportation on the Grand Rapids road, tells us there are 20,000 people at Rome City to-day.

The funeral of the child of W. P. Smick will take place to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock from the residence, 164 West Wayne street.

A horse trader is camped out on the river bank. A discharged employe tried to shoot him this morning and police protection was invoked.

The fruits of the refreshing rain this morning are ripening. John Young and Jane Mills, George R. Walker and Henrietta A. Ward, Joseph M. Rex and Sally Smith have been licensed to wed.

Mrs. Gottleib Small, of Force street, is said to be dying from the effects of taking the wrong medicine which a south Calhoun street druggist put up for her. Dr. I. N. Rosenthal is treating the lady.

A little son of W. S. Harrison, the painter, fell down in the rear of his father's shop, this afternoon, and huge spikes protruding from a board penetrated the lad's face, inflicting awful injuries.

During the month of July Messrs. Tom Mannix and Alex Ormiston handled 19 262 pieces of mail matter at the depot transfer house. They are faithful and efficient public servants and as reliable as a clock.

The quarterly statements of the Old National and First National banks are published in this issue of THE SENTINEL and serve to show the solidity of the institutions. The citizens of Fort Wayne are justly proud of their banks.

Hon. J. K. Edgerton donated a lot to the new M. E. church to be erected out near the new Pittsburg yards. The promoters have $3,000 cash besides and Rev. Mr Cooper says that work on the new church will begin next week.

Mr. D. C. Fisher to-day closed a contract with the Detroit Base Ball club to play the Fort Wayne "Mets" at the fair grounds in this city, Aug. 16. The Detroits come here from Chicago and go to Indianapolis. Mr. Fisher paid the prospective champions $300 to come here.

Chas. Newmever had the big toe of his right foot mashed in the Kerr Murray works this forenoon about 11 o'clock, while assisting in moving a heavy piece of machinery, by one end of it falling. Drs. Barnett and Van Buskirk were called who attended to the man's injury.

The Metropolitan base ball club plays a very strong amateur game and would have beaten the Columbia City club even worse had it not been for one of their players doing the baby act and "ponting" instead of hustling after the pig skin. He should stay at home with his mamma and not assume to play ball with men.

The business houses on Calhoun street, between Wayne and Berry, are deprived of water while the pipes are being replaced. Dr. A. Dodge was not to be out done and at Frank Falker's house of call he has a novel barrel contrivance to cool the beer and wines. He says he will sue Col. Geo. Ortleib for infringement.

Rev. Sam Jones spoke at Rome City yesterday and the gate receipts indicated 15,000 on the island. Mr. Jones delivered one of his charactistic lectures and opinions differed widely as to the propriety of his language. He further shocked the good deacons by blowing a clear Havanna cigar into smoke in the evening. Mr. Jones passed through Fort Wayne on the midnight train, accompanied by his son, a mere lad.

Daily Sentinel

THURSDAY, AUGUST 4, 1887.

GIVE the people of Fort Wayne cheap, pure water and plenty of it.

THE election figures in Kentucky come in with their old time rotundity.

THE Indiana democrats will endorse President Cleveland with no uncertain sound.

THE authorities ought to make it a point to enforce all the city ordinances or strike them off the records.

THE Business Men's exchange is doing good work. It has now taken hold of the water and natural gas questions.

THE civil service league seems to have been accumulating evidence. The trouble now is, how will they apply it?

THE city is forcing too many costly improvements on its citizens. It is time to call a halt for this season, at least.

MR. CLEVELAND seems to have survived the criticisms of the obstreperous wing of the late democratic editorial association.

IF the city can get its water supply pumped for $7,000 a year less than it now costs, it ought to accept the proposition and reduce the water rents accordingly.

IT IS childs play to think of supplying the growing city of Fort Wayne, with its great industries and manufactories, from a few sulphur wells. The present supply from below the brewery is even better than the well scheme.

THE people of Fort Wayne pay higher water rents than are levied in any city of its size in the union. The water is measured out to most customers through miserly meters and in dry weather, when water is most needed, consumers are warned to use it lightly. Is this what the people of Fort Wayne entered into a partnership and mortgaged their property to construct water works for?

THE SENTINEL deplores that party management is intrusted to such men as Sim Coy, of Indianapolis, because they invariably involve an organization in trouble. We cannot, however, but congratulate the people of Indiana on the result of the trial of these local politicians for alleged alterations of the election tally sheets. In the first place the crime was not clearly within federal jurisdiction; in the second place it was a purely political trial and that feeling was permitted to protrude its serpent-like fangs from the judicial garments, while in the third place it adds new laurels to the jury system and shows that neither a partisan press, a partisan judge or a malignant counsel can override and blind the intelligence of twelve honest jurors, who can distinguish between political revenge and a crime against the election laws.

TWO ENGLISH sparrows were building their nests under the cornice in an angle of the Court House, in Parkersburg, W. Va., when another bird, a pugnacious cock sparrow squatter, undertook to take possession. A noisy fight ensued, which is thus described by the prosecuting attorney, who witnessed it: "The plucky claim-jumper was driven off half a dozen times or more, but returned to the attack and kept up the fight for half an hour or more, perhaps, when a dozen or more birds collected in the neighborhood of the nest, and when he came back again they seized him and by some means wound a thread or string about his neck and threw him over the edge of the nest into space. The bird fell and brought up at the end of the halter. As he could neither release himself nor find a spot on which to rest his feet he was perforce compelled to fly back to the nest. But around the edge was a cordon of birds who threw him back each time until, exhausted, he hung limp and lifeless, strangled to death. After the birds satisfied themselves of the marauder's death the reinforcement retired and the family went on building its nest. The bird was left hanging by the neck three feet below the nest, and still hangs there as a warning to other ornithological outlaws."

SAYS a Mexican mine owner: "We usually have trusty men who act as detectives. In this way we discover many strange devices to smuggle out the mineral. One day a detective came to me and said: 'When such and such men come out examine their sandals.' I had that done. On the bottoms of the sandals was what appeared to be mud, but when it was scraped into a pan and worked I found that it ran at the rate of $3,000 to the ton."

GEN. FRANCIS E. SPINNER, formerly Treasurer of the United States, is greatly enjoying life in his tent home on Pablo Beach, Fla. At 80 years of age he is as genial and hearty as ever, and welcomes hosts of visitors. He is a particularly successful fisherman, and envious rivals say that when worms are scarce he uses his signature for bait!

BASE-BALL IN INDIANAPOLIS.

A Game Mrs. McDuffy Could Not Understand.

There is one lady in Indianapolis who will probably never become an enthusiastic admirer of our national game, says the Detroit Free Press.

The individual to whom I refer is Mrs. McDuffy. I had the misfortune to occupy a seat adjoining hers during the opening game between the Detroits and the home club, and the following were the remarks on the occasion referred to:

"I don't see why some women can't understand base-ball. If there is anything about it that I can't see through it will be strange," she said to her husband. "Who are those big fellows over there?"

"Why, the 'big four,' of course," said he.

"O, yes, how stupid I am. I suppose that is Jay Gould watching the big four so closely. Didn't he say 'one strike?' He is responsible for those dreadful strikes, isn't he? Do you think the men will strike to-day?"

"Great heavens, woman, are you crazy? That is the umpire. Can't you keep quiet and watch the game?" he growled.

"Certainly I will," she said. "But where is the Detroit team? I haven't seen a team to-day any different from Indianapolis horses. Do they bring them right out here on the grounds? I should think they would get frightened in such a crowd as this and kick and cut up awfully. Do you think they will?"

"It is possible," he answered resignedly. "There are some kicking teams."

"I am so glad I am up here out of danger. What did that man do then?"

"Struck a foul——"

"Struck a poor, innocent fowl! The hateful thing! I didn't see any fowl. What kind was it? What are they cheering for?"

"Thompson caught a fly."

"Now, Mr. McDuffy, don't sit there and tell me you could see anything so small as a fly at this distance. Besides, it is too early for flies. What do they want to stop a game of base-ball to catch flies for, any way? Do tell me what that man is acting so silly about?"

"Trying to steal a base."

"The wicked thief! Where is the base?"

"Over there," explained McDuffy. "That is the first base, the other the second, and this one, nearest, the third."

"Are they, indeed, and that is the soprano in the middle, I suppose?"

"Ah, yes," groaned McDuffy, "you're getting it down fine."

"See, that naughty man has knocked the ball clean out of sight. Wasn't that mean! Don't you suppose they'll discharge him? What are they cheering for now? Making a home run? Well, I should think he would, and stay there, too, after such an exhibition of temper. What! Did you say they were going to whitewash them? Do they just whitewash them all over—face and all?"

"Ah," said McDuffy, savagely, "you've got it now. That's the way they fix them, and afterward calcimine them, and fresco them, and dodo them, and put on French roofs. How proud I am of you, Mrs. McDuffy. All you need is a whitewash brush to be a full-fledged member of the Lime Klin Club."

"How funny you are, Mr. McDuffy. Did that man say they were giving the visitors goose eggs? Now, what do they want with goose eggs in a game of ball? It's getting worse and worse. I don't see what people go crazy over base-ball for, any way. I understand the game, as far as that is concerned, but there's nothing in it. If there is anything smart in bringing out thousands of people to watch them catch flies, and try to steal a base, and goose eggs, and muffs, and crack pitchers, and the Lord knows what else—I can't see it. The next thing they'll be bringing in that team and they'll kill somebody, and I don't propose to stay to see it. If you'll just see me to the carriage, Mr. McDuffy, I'll go home. I've had all the base-ball I want."

The disgusted lady departed, to the evident satisfaction of her husband, who soon returned to enjoy the remainder of the game in peace.

Telling Thieves by Measure.

A new method of identifying criminals has been adopted in the prisons of France, Russia, and Japan. It consists in taking the exact measurement of the person upon his coming to the jail.

His waist, the length and width of the head, the left middle finger, the left foot, the outstretched arms, the three other fingers of the left hand, the left arm from the elbow to the wrist, and the length and width of the ear are measured, and the color of the eyes and any peculiarities are noted down.

A photograph is also immediately taken, and by these means the many mistakes which have been made by trusting to a photographer only are avoided.

It is stated that habitual criminals, particularly English pickpockets, are so convinced of the infallibility of the method that they will on no account submit to the measurement, and offer violent resistance whenever the attempt is made to measure them.—Youth's Companion.

Coal Products.

There seems to be no end to the variety of new products from coal. It is but a short time since the discovery of a new saccharine substance was announced, excelling all others in the intensity of its sweetness, and now still another substance, which will be known as "pyrofuxin," which it is claimed may be economically used for tanning leather fuxin to the litre is announced. In its purified form it is a fine, non-triturable substance, without taste or smell, non-poisonous, and in appearance like catechu. Some Russian coals contain 18 per cent. pyrofuxin.

That Rarest of Combinations.

True delicacy of flavor with true efficacy of action, has been attained in the famous California liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs. Its pleasant taste and beneficial effects have rendered it immensely popular. Large bottles for sale by Thieme and Gross.

The Miser's Clutch.

"The money, sir? the money—hold!" he cried. "Not that! I cannot part with that"—and died.

Pope's picture of the miser making his will is typical of avarice in its last moments, everywhere. Nothing is more pitiful than the impotent persistency of covetousness that has been the ruling passion of a life-time.

Some one has told, in the Lewiston (Me.) Journal, the story of Hugh M——, who died in Durham, forty years ago. He was a determined man and very penurious. He died at an advanced age. On his death-bed he kept his right hand closely clutched. As he drew his last breath he tightened his hold. Everybody there knew what he held. It was the key to the chest in which he kept his gold.

As his nerveless hands unclosed, the key dropped from them and clattered against the bedside. As if to hold it even after his soul had passed away, the miser had tied the key about his wrist by a strong cord and had grasped it as long as life remained. He had wanted to take his gold with him. They buried him just as he was, with the key to his money-chest dangling about his wrist, and to-day the key is in his grave, turned to rust probably.

"And what became of the gold?"

"Oh, the heirs took care of that just the same. They split open the chest with an ax and divided the gold and let the miser sleep on with the key about his wrist."

A peculiarity of Hood's Sarsaparilla is that while it purifies the blood, it imparts new vigor to every function of the body.

JUDGE no man because the disposition of his mind is not like your own

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Wrong

To imagine that the treatment of Constipation consists merely in unloading the bowels. The medicine must not only act as a purgative, but be a tonic as well, and not produce after its use greater costiveness. This is what Simmons Liver Regulator always does.

"As a general family remedy for Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels."—W. J. MCELROY, Macon, Ga.

Believe us, when we tell you that most of the despondent feeling (the blues) is the effect of a Torpid Liver, Indigestion, Weakness of Stomach, and Nervousness. A dose of Simmons Liver Regulator invariably relieves, cures and prevents a re-occurrence.

"I find Simmons Liver Regulator, very safe, harmless and valuable as a family medicine, and have used it for any disorder of the system and have found it to act like a charm, and I believe that if it was used in time, it would prove a great preventive of sickness. I have often recommended it to my friends, and shall continue to do so."—Rev. JAMES. M. ROLLINS, Fairfield, Va.

Simmons Liver Regulator is given with safety and with the happiest results, in almost any ailment, to the most delicate infant as well as to the adult. For all diseases in which a laxative, alterative, or purgative is needed, it will give the most perfect satisfaction. It is the cheapest, purest and best Family Medicine in the world.

Price $1. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared by J. H. ZEILIN & Co., Philadelphia, Pa

The treatment of many thousands of cases of those chronic weaknesses and distressing ailments peculiar to females, at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has afforded a vast experience in nicely adapting and thoroughly testing remedies for the cure of woman's peculiar maladies.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the outgrowth, or result, of this great and valuable experience. Thousands of testimonials, received from patients and from physicians who have tested it in the more aggravated and obstinate cases which had baffled their skill, prove it to be the most wonderful remedy ever devised for the relief and cure of suffering women. It is not recommended as a "cure-all," but as a most perfect Specific for woman's peculiar ailments.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, worn-out, "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womb. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a legitimate medicine, carefully compounded by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. It is purely vegetable in its composition and perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system. For morning sickness, or nausea, from whatever cause arising, weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia and kindred symptoms, its use, in small doses, will prove very beneficial.

"Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhea, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness in ovaries, accompanied with "internal heat."

As a regulator and promoter of functional action, at that critical period of change from girlhood to womanhood, "Favorite Prescription" is a perfectly safe remedial agent, and can produce only good results. It is equally efficacious and valuable in its effects when taken for those disorders and derangements incident to that later and most critical period, known as "The Change of Life."

"Favorite Prescription," when taken in connection with the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and small laxative doses of Dr. Pierce's Purgative Pellets (Little Liver Pills), cures Liver, Kidney and Bladder diseases. Their combined use also removes blood taints, and abolishes cancerous and scrofulous humors from the system.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper and faithfully carried out for many years.

Large bottles (100 doses) $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 4, 1887.

Some Old Folks.

Emanuel Cross, of Stoddard County, Missouri, is nearly 105 years old. He draws pension for services in Indian wars.

Francis Rondo, the Wisconsin pioneer who died recently at Fond du Lac, aged more than 100 years, left 454 descendants in three generations.

The oldest woman in Indiana is Mrs. Magdalena Boggs, of Milton. She was born near Lancaster, Pa., December 22, 1783, and is therefore nearly 104 years old. Her health is good.

The famous old Mr. Parr, of London, died at 155 from a surfeit of eating. Coming down to the present there are many instances of passing the century limit. Chevreul, the famous French chemist, celebrated the 100th anniversary of his birth a short time ago.

When are we old? Prof. Faraday holds that the duration of life in man and animal is five times the period of growth; man's growth requires twenty years; he should, therefore, under ordinary circumstances, live to be 100; infancy extending to the 20th year; youth to the 50th, when the tissues become firm; virility to 75, and old age from 75 to 100.

Walter Murray Gibson, late Premier of the Hawaiin Kingdom, is a man over 70 years of age, but hale and vigorous. Miss Howard St. Clair, a handsome California book agent, claims that the Premier has failed to keep a promise of marriage, and that the sum of $100,000 will just about quiet the throbbings of her more or less broken heart. An effort at a compromise is being made.

Mrs. Ellen Rudden, the oldest woman in Newark, died recently at her home, 39 Stone street. She was 105 years old. She came to Newark over fifty years ago. Mrs. Rudden had eleven children, and three sons and one daughter are yet alive. The youngest is over 45 years old. She was always a hard-working woman. She walked to church until about three years ago.

Dr. Farr favors 100 years for the tenure of life, but makes these divisions: Boyhood, 10 to 15; youth, 15 to 25; manhood, 25 to 55; maturity, 55 to 75; ripeness, 75 to 85, and old age from 85 upward. Prof. J. R. Buchanan places the attainable limits of longevity at 140, and he cites the fourteen people of that age found in Italy by a census under one of the later Roman emperors.

Nine hundred and ninety persons in a thousand would say that a baby in the cradle would be likely to live longer than a man of 65, but statistics prove indisputably that 500 in every 1,000 infants die before the age of 5 years is recorded, while out of 1,000 healthy men aged 65 more than 500 of them will be alive in five, aye, in ten years, or even a longer time. So it will be seen that a man of 65 may be considered younger than an infant as far as his chances of future life are concerned.

Mme. Candelaria, although 99 years old, is not only in full possession, but also the enjoyment, of all her faculties. She moves about her little house in Laredo street, San Antonio, as bright and as busy as a bee. She is held very dear by her townspeople on account of her romantic and heroic bearing during the siege of the Alamo in 1837 by the Mexicans, under Santa Anna. She nursed the wounded, and saw one and all of the noble defenders of the Alamo die. Col. Bowie died in her arms.

An Important Element

Of the success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is the fact that every purchaser receives a fair equivalent for his money. The familiar headline "100 Doses One Dollar" stolen by imitators, is original with and true only of Hood's Sarsaparilla. This can easily be proven by any one who desires to test the matter. For real economy, buy only Hood's Sarsaparilla, Sold by all druggists.

Modern Jerusalem.

The alleys, for you cannot call them streets, especially in the Jewish quarter, are filthy, dirty, paved with mud and slime. Dogs are met on every hand, poor, miserable curs, ever ready to seize on anything in the shape of food, from a cast-off shoe to a stray bone. In the shops that line the narrow streets their keepers sit cross-legged with an assortment of souvenirs for travelers; pearls from the Red Sea, cut and polished at Bethlehem, shells from Acre, resurrection plant from Jericho, inlaid sandals, curved olive wood trinkets, seals of onyx, carnelian, jasper, or agate, with the Church of the Resurrection, the Mosque of Omar, the five crosses of the Franciscans the olive branch, star of Bethlehem, cut or painted in Hebrew, with Jerusalem "Mizpah", upon them, beautiful silver filagree from Damascus, olive or castile soap flavored with "spice of Arabi," paraffine candles, painted and ornamented in many colors, to be used in collecting and maintaining some of the "holy Greek fire" that will spring off the "holy sepulchre" the day before Easter. Last week the Mohammedans celebrated the feast of the ascension of the prophet, and annually many sons of Islam come here; many are still here to "look on with silent contempt the goings-on of the Christians." It is estimated that there are 75,000 strangers in the city—some for pleasure, but the greater number Christian pilgrims to participate in the Easter festival.—Rev. Ira Harris.

A Large City.

If any one were to walk one way through all the streets of London, he would be obliged to go a distance of two thousand six hundred miles, or as far as it is across the American continent from New York to San Francisco. This will give an idea of what would have to be done in order to see even the greater part of London.

In our approach to this city, as well as in our rambles through its streets, we shall not be struck so much by its splendid and imposing appearance as by its immensity. Go where we may, there seems to be no end to the town. It is fourteen miles one way, and eight miles the other, and contains a population of nearly four million people, which is greater, indeed, than that of Switzerland or the kingdom of Denmark and Greece combined. We are told on good authority that there are more Scotchmen in London than in Edinburg, more Irishmen than in Dublin, and more Jews than in Palestine, with foreigners from all parts of the world, including a great number of Americans. Yet there are so many Englishmen in London, that one is not likely to notice the presence of these people of other nations.

This vast body of citizens, some so rich that they never can count their money, and some so poor that they never have any to count, eat every year four hundred thousand oxen, one and a half million sheep, eight million chickens and game birds, not to speak of calves, hogs, and different kinds of fish. They consume five hundred million oysters, which, although it seems like a large number, would only give, if equally divided among all the people, one oyster every third day to each person. There are three hundred thousand servants in London, enough people to make a large city; but as this gives only one servant to each dozen citizens, it is quite evident that a great many of the people must wait on themselves. Things are very unequally divided in London; and I have no doubt that instead of there being one servant to twelve persons, some of the rich lords and ladies have twelve servants apiece.—Frank R. Stockton.

Distress After Eating.

This result of indigestion will no longer be experienced if Simmons Liver Regulator is taken after each meal. It is such a good digester, and so mild and pleasant in its effect that it is used by many, after a hearty meal, to insure good digestion. The regulator does not nauseate or irritate the stomach, but corrects acidity, dispels foul gases, allays irritation, and assists the stomach in its digestion.

THE more you murmur against your cross, the greater its burden will be.

Delicate Children, Nursing

Mothers, overworked men and for all diseases where the tissues are wasting away from the inability to digest food, or from overwork; should take Scott's emulsion of pure cod liver oil with Hypophosphites. "I used the emulsion on a lady who was delicate. It put her in such good health and flesh, that I must say it is the best emulsion."—L. P. Waddell, M. D., Hugh's Mills S. C.

DO YOUR duty in little things and you will be faithful in great ones.

I have been for several years a sufferer from hay fever and severe head colds, and have tried other remedies in hope of getting relief but have found none that can campare with Ely's Cream Balm. I would not be without it for any consideration. It is simply wonderful in its effect upon the nasal organs. S. A. Burtt, Wilmington, N. C.

I can cheerfully recommend Ely's Cream Balm to the suffering public for hay fever and stoppage of the air passages. I have tried it and find it gives immediate relief.—J. E. Rector, 209 Rock Street, Little Rock, Ark.

CURED OF SICK HEADACHE.

FRUIT HOUSE PRICES FOR '87

Quite a change has taken place in a great many goods the last sixty days, the tendency being in most cases upwards. This is the case, especially in Coffee and Dried Fruits, Sugars, Teas, Syrups, Spices and Tobaccos, have not advanced, but from indications they will. It will pay our customers to purchase liberally.

Sugars—White and Yellow.

Yellow C Sugar, 5½c. Standard A Sugar, 6½c. Granulated Sugar, 7c. Powdered Sugar, 7c. Cut Loaf Sugar, 7c.

NO ADVANCE ON TEAS,

Yet they will not likely remain at such low prices in the face of the large advance on Coffee. We continue to maintain our prestige in the Tea trade. Our trade has grown immensely in that line. People have to longer to send off to purchase their Teas. In order to save money we keep up the plan of buying in large lots of the importers and re-selling direct to our customers at a small profit, thereby saving to our customers the intermediate profits of jobber and wholesale dealer —which is not less than 10 to 20c.

Good, 15c per pound; choice, 30c; best, 50c. Imperial tea—Green, good, 30c; best, 50c, Gunpowder tea, 30c; best, 50c. Oolong or Black tea, 20c, 30c; best, 50c; Japan tea, 20c, 30c; best, 50c. Above prices on teas are the lowest on record and the best teas are of the highest quality—no better anywhere—the other grades are good, sweet, drawing teas and will please the most fastidious tea drinkers. Just give them a trial and satisfy yourself.

Coffee—Rio, Java and Roasted.

Best Rio coffee, 20c, per pound; best roasted Rio, 24c per pound; German coffee, 26c per pound; Housekeepers' Choice, 28c per pound; Dannemiller's, 26c. per cent.

Foreign and Domestic Fruits, Prunes, Raisins, Currents, &c., &c.

Turkish prunes, 5c; figs, per pound, 10c; peeled peaches, 20c; dried cherries, 18; unpeeled peaches, 8c; dried raspberries, 30c; dried apples, 6c; dried blackberries, 15c.

Leghorn Citron, 22c; orange and lemon peel, 15c; Valencia raisins, 8c; best layer raisins, 12½c; Zantee currants, 8c; shelled almonds, 30c; seedless raisins, 10c.

Candies—Stick, Mixed and Bon Bons.

Pure stick candy, 10c; pure mixed candy, 10c; fancy toy candy, 20c, toy candies, 20c; Brazil nuts, 10c quart; almond nuts, 15c quart; mixed nuts, 15c quart; walnuts and filberts, 12½c quart.

Syrups---Maple and Sugar Syrups and New Orleans Molasses.

Pure Maple syrup, 70c a gallon; golden drips, 40c; Sorghum, 40c; New Orleans molasses, 35c; best, 40c. The sorghum is splendid and 10c lower than we ever sold it before.

WINES AND LIQUORS FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES.

Old 76, $2.50 per gallon; two years old, $1.75; one year old, $1.40 per gallon; new whisky, $1 and $1.25 per gallon; Port and Sherry wine, $1.25 per gallon; California wine, $1.25 per gallon; wines in bottles, 40c.

Machine Oils, Fish Oil, Lard Oil and Neatsfoot Oil, and Headlight Oil and Castor Oil.

Fish oil, per gallon, 70c; Neatsfoot oil, 80c per gallon; Lard oil, 70c per gallon; Machine oil, dark, 20c per gallon; Golden, 30c per gallon; Castor oil, $1.75 per gallon; Headlight oil, 12c per gallon.

Tobaccos and Cigars, Plug Tobacco, Smoking Tobacco and Fine Cut.

Bull Dog plug tobacco, 40c; Durham plug, 50c; Perfection plug, 35c; Hiawatha plug, 30c; Knights of Labor plug, 30c; Sweet Heart plug, 50c per pound. Fine cut, 25c, 50c; best, 75c per pound. Smoking, 18c, 20c, 25c; best Durham 45c per pound. Choice cigars, $1.50 per box; good cigars, 60c and $1 per box.

The new series of postage stamps soon to be issued will vary very little from designs now in use. The vignettes will not be changed at all, and the portraits on the new stamps will be identical with those now in use. The chief object of the change will be to make the new series of adhesive stamps conform to those embossed upon the envelopes now used from the department. To this end there will be several changes in the colors employed. The most noticeable of these will be in the 2-cent stamps. This is now brown. In the new series it will be of milori green.

Save your tickets! All three of the grand capital prizes will be drawn September 1, in case numbers 1,104, 1,930 and 907 are not presented before that time. Messrs. Sam, Pete & Max are determined that somebody shall secure these grand presents. The daily presentation of valuable gifts, the popular scheme of the day, and going the year round. No dull times at the Star, business booming, stock immense, prices way down. 30d&w-tf.

NEVER

Such an Opportunity as Now to Obtain the Very Best Values for Little Money.

—:o:—

No use Buying trash when such splendid values are going so cheap. We must, will and shall close out as many goods prior to our removal, October 1, as can be done, if letting down the prices to low ebb counts.

See here! Look at the figures! Compare the reductions!

Men's Laundried, colored Percale Shirts, two and three colars, extra cuffs, regular $1.50, $1.25 and $1.00 grades, some slightly soiled, all now at 69c.

$3.00, $2.75, $2 50 Felt Stiff Hats, (light or dark) all now $1.98.

Men's Summer Hats, 50c, 40c and 25c grade, all now 10c.

Men's Jeans Pants, at 50c, 75c, and $1; worth more.

Children's Suits $1, $1.50, $2.50 and up; worth nearly double.

Children's Short Pants, at 19c, 25c and up; connot be matched.

In Men's Boys' and Children's Suits prices have been reduced, in many cases scarcely costing more than the material.

It pays to attend the grand clearance sale prior to our removal. Big reduction on short lots.

A. S. LAUFERTY & CO.,

No. 9 East Main Street

UNTIL OCTOBER 1, 1887.

Chief Diehl and his family are at Warsaw.

Fred Baade, the teamster, is much better to-day.

Frank Mensch, the mail carrier, is getting along nicely.

The cellar of George E. E. Bursley's new block is flooded.

The county commissioners are expected from Greensburg to-night and will be in session to-morrow.

Rev. Mr. Bacher, of the Grace Reform church, is expected home to-night. He will be tendered a welcome social at the church parlors to-morrow night.

The residence of Mrs. Duffy, No. 98 Third street, Bloomingdale, caught fire this morning and was partially destroyed before the department got there. The loss is $150.

Fred Witte attacked Officer Wahrenburg on Fairfield avene last night. He was locked up and this morning paid $11 for the fun. Wm. Thompson also paid a fine for indulging in a spree.

A child of Wm. Horstmeyer died last night, aged six weeks. The funeral is to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock from the house, No. 49 Gay street. Mr. Horstmeyer is a tailor with J. G. Thieme.

The Grand Rapids Democrat says: "Mrs. Saynor and Master Harry, of the Windsor hotel, of Fort Wayne, and Mrs. Durnell also of Fort Wayne, are visiting Mrs. J. A. Sanford, 260 Eighth avenue.

Mary Klein, a young miss from Woodburn, has been serving as second cook at the Robinson house. She was dismissed yesterday and celebrated the event by getting drunk. The police locked the damsel up and she is now in jail.

There is fresh evidence that the Wabash-Indianapolis, Peru and Chicago combination do not intend to pay their arrearages of $12,000 in the Indianapolis east bound pool. Investigation shows that E. H. Scott, who represented the trustees of the Indianapolis, Peru and Chicago, never signed the pooling agreement, but that James Smith, traffic manager of the Wabash, did so. Now it is claimed that Mr. Smith, who is off the Wabash, had no authority to sign the pooling agreement, and neither the Wabash nor the I., P. &. C. will take any steps to settle the questions at issue. Roads which paid up their percentages when they earned more than their allotted per cent. now wish they had acted as wisely as some of their competitors and kept their money in the company's treasury.

"Do you know how to get the worth of your money?" asked a young man of another. "Certainly, by buying B O's."

This is to certify that I had a policy on my building which was damaged by fire on the 31st day of July, 1887, in the German Ins. Co., of Freeport, Ill., issued by Conrad Neirieter, agent. On the 2nd day of August, 1887, the loss was adjusted and paid cash, and for such promptness and dealing I voluntarily recommend the said company to all who may need insurance. And also would most heartily reccommend Conrad Neirieter for taking interest promptly and seeing the loss settled.

Swimming Among Sharks.

A traveler whose vessel had anchored off the coast of Arabia, two-thirds of the distance down the Red Sea, describes in the Youth's Companion a perilous game of the urchins of that region. Being on deck in the morning he noticed some bobbing black objects in the water and said to the captain: "What are those things swimming? Sharks, I suppose?"

"Well, land-sharks you might call 'em, p'raps. Take my glass and try again."

A look through the glass speedily transformed the black objects into the faces of Arab children who were apparently not more than 5 or 6 years old. The vessel was at least a mile from the shore and the water was deep enough at any point to drown the very tallest of these adventurers.

The Lilliputian swimmers drew near with shrill cries and elfish laughter; when a final stroke of their lean arms had brought them alongside, there arose a universal chorus of "piastre, howaji!" (a penny, sir!)

"Chuck 'em a copper and you'll see something good," said the captain.

One was tossed into the water and instantly the smooth, bright surface was dappled with a forest of tiny brown toes, all turning up at once as the boy divers plunged together.

By this time the entire crew had assembled to witness the sport, and a shower of exclamations was to be heard: "There's one of 'em got it."

"No, he ain't."

"Yes, he has! I see him a-coming up with it!"

The successful diver rose, and was at once surrounded by three or four partical comrades, who did their best to snatch away the hard-won coin. As the boy reached the surface, he held up his prize triumphantly, and then popped it into his mouth, his only pocket.

In a moment a crafty comrade swam up behind and tickled him under the chin, whereupon the mouth opened and out dropped the coin into the water. A genuine fight and scramble ensued, while the air rang with shouts and laughter.

Meantime two sharks appeared at a perilous short distance from the excited divers, but their presence seemed to produce no effect whatever upon the urchins.

"Aren't they afraid of sharks?" asked the traveler of the captain.

"Not they. They make too much row for any shark to come near them. Sharks are easy scared, for all they're so savage."

But the observers, unaccustomed to the boys' game, would scarcely have cared to trust to a shark's timidity.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

On the Speech Delivered by George William Curtis Before the National Civil Service League at Newport.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—In concluding its editorial on the address of Mr. George William Curtis before the National Civil Service league, the Times, says: "When all allowance has been made for the president on account of difficulties of his task and the tremendous pressure of the politicians activity and party interest, it would be well if he could be induced to reflect upon the sources of his own strength. What carried him to his present position was not seeking to advance his own interests by expedients of practical politicians, but relying confidently for support on an honest, courageous and faithful performance of public duty."

The Tribune says: "Are the mugwumps getting ready to desert the Cleveland ship? It certainly looks so, and judging from the speech which George William Curtis delivered yesterday he will be the first man to retreat over the gang plank."

The Sun says: "As between George William Curtis, mugwump, and a large number of democrats, it must be said that Mr. Curtis shows a greater disposition to tell the truth."

The World says: "Frank admission of facts long ignored by mugwump supporters of the president is directly on the line with what the World has been saying for a long time past. The president has been a reformer in words chiefly. The very general partisan reconstruction of civil service has continued the precedent under which republicans would again seize the offices upon a change of administration.

The Herald makes no editorial comment on the address.

The Kentucky Elections.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 4.—Additional reports this morning do not give any indications of the election. As far as we can judge the democratic losses are due to the confidence and indifference in the democratic party, and the unusually good organization on the part of the republicans. The republicans voted and the democrats stayed at home. Our returns are from fifty-six counties, and cast sixty per cent. of the whole vote of the state. The republican vote in the counties reporting is a little over sixty per cent. of the total, and the democratic vote is a little over 58. These fifty-six counties show a loss from Cleveland's majority, 34 839, of 7,710. If the ratio of gains and losses continues the same for the remaining forty per cent. the net democratic loss will be 12,850, leaving Buckner a majority over Bradley of 21,999.

Bad Jane Butler.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 4.—A shooting occurred at No. 791 Center street last night at about 10:50 o'clock, in which Jane Butler, negro woman about thirty three years of age, shot and badly wounded William Patterson, also colored, with whom she has been living. The ball struck Patterson just over the right eye and ranged around his forehead, coming out at the upper part of the left temple, inflicting a severe wound. The woman escaped and was not captured.

A Mexican Murder.

EL PASO, Tex., Aug. 3. Mrs. Maese, widow of the late Juan Maese, one of the wealthiest and most influential citizens of northern Mexico, was murdered at her residence, near Paso Del Norte this afternoon. The deed is supposed to have been committed by a man named Telles, an illegitimate son of the late Mr. Maese. By the law of Mexico Telles would get a share of the estate in case of the widow's death. Telles is under arrest.

The Fishery Question.

TORONTO, Aug. 4.—A cable despatch from London to the Globe says: "Fresh proposals for the settlement of the fisheries dispute have recently been submitted to the government by the authorities at Washington. They were approved at Ottawa and have been favorably received by the imperial government, but they are still under consideration.

Paul Brother's New Grocery.

One of the neatest, cleanest and best appointed groceries in the city is that of Paul Brothers which opened this morning at 23 W. Columbia street. A SENTINEL reporter, who inspected the stock, was pleased with the evidences of thorough management displayed. The stock is exceedingly well selected and embraces all kinds of staple and fancy groceries. Provisions and country produce of the freshest and best character will always be found there. The Paul Brothers are exceedingly popular young gentlemen and will give every attention to business. There is no reason why the grocery should not attract much trade. The public is invited to the opening this evening.

Two Tramps Killed.

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 4.—A collision of two freight trains occurred yesterday on the Burlington and Missouri river road between North Bend and Ashland. Both engines and thirteen cars were thrown over the embankment into North Platte river. Two tramps stealing a ride were killed. Engineers and firemen escaped by jumping.

Fatal Explosion.

GREEN BAY, Wis., Aug. 4.—A beer bottle in Rhoers' brewery exploded at 8:30 last night, scalding seven men, six of whom died during the night.

THE MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—The stock market opened very active and strong with advances from ½ to 1¼ per cent. The latter Lake Shore rise culminated about 10:40 a. m., when prices were from ¼ to ¾ above opening, and after that time the market yielded, and part of the improvement was lost. At 11 o'clock the market was quiet and heavy, generally at small fractions above first prices.

Destruction of Babylon.

The following is taken from the American Cyclopedia: The last successor of Nebuchadnezzar, Nabonadius, joined the league formed to check the threatening power of Persia. This brought upon him the invasion of Cyrus. Having associated with himself in the Government his son Belshazzar, Nabonadius, leaving him in command of Babylon, advanced to meet Cyrus. Being defeated in the field, he threw himself into Borsippa, while Cyrus advanced to the siege of Babylon. The city was provisioned for a long siege, and the strength of its walls defied direct assault. It was taken only by the stratagem of diverting the river from its course, and marching in through its dry bed. Herodotus relates that Cyrus turned the Euphrates into the great reservoir excavated by Nitocris. This appears incredible, for even assuming the existence of this reservoir, its waters must have been on a level with those of the river, and no cutting could have laid bare the river bed. Xenophon, a much better authority in this matter, says that Cyrus drained the bed by means of two cuttings of his own, from a point above the city to another below it. If we suppose that the river was not the Euphrates itself, but a bayou or side branch, shallower than the river, the whole operation becomes perfectly comprehensible. He had only to dam up the mouth of the bayou above the city, and deepen the channel below by which it re-entered the Euphrates. In an hour after cutting away the bulkhead below, the channel would be dry. This was done in the dead of night. It was a complete surprise. So confident were the besieged in the impregnability of their outer defenses that they neglected to close the water-gates which fronted the river at the foot of each street, and Belshazzar and his court passed the night in revelry. When morning dawned the inner defenses had all fallen into the hands of the besiegers (538c. Cyrus, having dismantled Babylon, moved upon Borsippa, still held by Nabonadius, who surrendered and received kind treatment. Cyrus assigned him a residence and estate in Caramania, where the last king of Babylon ended his days in peace. For a time Babylon was a royal residence of the Persian kings. Two attempts were made to revolt, and each time Babylon stood a siege and was further dismantled. It ceased to be a royal city; the brick walls and palaces fell into decay and when Alexander the Great took possession of it it was comparatively a ruin. He intended to restore the city and make it his Asiatic Capital, but his death prevented the execution of his scheme.

A SYSTEM of weather observation on a small scale has been established in Brazil, records from fifteen stations now being regularly communicated to the observatory of Rio Janeiro.

FIERCE FLAMES!

Destroys Two Squares of the Business Portion of Bowling Green, O., and Works Death and Ruin at Baltimore.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Aug. 4.—At 3 o'clock this morning, a telegraphic call for aid was received by the Toledo fire department, from Bowling Green, Wood county, eighteen miles distant, and an engine was at once dispatched by a special train. The flames originated in a bakery, in some unknown manner, and before they were gotten under control had destroyed twenty-two buildings embracing two squares of the business portion of the town, including one hotel, one marble works, livery stable, furniture store, harness shop, two wagon shops and a carriage shop and a number of offices and minor buildings. The total loss is about thirty five thousand dollars insured for about two thirds.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 4.—The extensive cracker bakery of James D. Mason & Sons was entirely destroyed this morning by fire, with all its contents and machinery, and also the building adjoining, occupied by Henderson, Lane & Co. dealers in crackers, cakes and candies. William Schulte, the foreman of engine No. 12, was buried beneath the ruins and killed. Chief Engineer Hemick was seriously injured and his death is feared. The flames continued to spread on the right to the store warehouse of Lockwandt, McDowell & Co., which was destroyed and the agricultural warehouse of Whitman & Sons, the upper part of which was burned out. On the left of the building in which the fire originated, the book and stationery store of Newton Kurtz & Son, containing a large stock, burned, and all the upper floors of the grain and produce commission house of E. B. Owens & Co. was destroyed. The fire spread to the south and took hold of the rear of the tin warehouses of E. L. Parker & Co., fronting on Charles street, which was wrecked and the stock ruined. The damage is estimated at $60,000. The entire damage is now estimated at $700,000.

CAIRO, Ill., Aug. 4.—Fires are raging in Manhattan township and hundreds of acres of pasture and stubble fields have been burned, and a large area of wood. The farmers are fighting it furiously and the creeks have all gone dry.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 4.—A fire this morning damaged the extensive saddlery hardware manufactory of Frazier & Jones company to the amount of $10,000. It is covered by insurance.

Railroad Wreck.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 4.—The west bound coke train on the Pennsylvania railroad was wrecked in Carpenter's tunnel, nineteen miles east of this city, last night and the main tracks were blocked from an to ten hours. The accident was caused by a broken axle. Eleven cars were wrecked and a brakeman named Chaddington is feared to be fatally injured. The tracks were not cleared until late this morning and trains east and west bound were sent over the Western Pennsylvania road to Blairsville Junction.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, August 4.—Indiana, fair weather in southern portion, local rains in northern portion, generally cooler.

IN THE BUSY WORLD.

Personal Points and Pithy Paragraphs Picked up Around the Shops and Railroads of the City.

Refrigerator cars are in demand.

The railroad ticket agents are kept busy.

There is still a scarcity of freight cars on all of the railroads.

The railroads are constantly engaged in repairing their tracks.

John McGowan, the Pittsburg boilermaker, is still on the sick list.

B. Armack, the Pittsburg mechanist, executed to Rome City yesterday.

The Grand Rapids road is having a good passenger travel to the northern resorts.

The Rose works shipped a new boiler and a 12x24 slide valve engine to Muncie Sunday.

Some of the prominent railroad officials are enjoying their vacations at summer resorts.

The Nickel Plate does not get the benefit from excursion travel that the other roads do.

The clerks in the railroad offices wipe the perspiration from their brow and mutter: "What fearful weather."

F. Olds, a machinist in the Pittsburg, is off duty to-day. Too much watermelon don't seem to agree with him.

Rome City has the advantage of Warsaw during the session of the assembly, and the travel to the former place is the greater at present.

James Fry, of the Pittsburg shore house tells us a good story of a fragrant magnolia, but "for goodness sake don't say I told you of it."

All grain is shipped from the Pacific states and territories in bags. Last year 36,000,000 bags were used, and the reports are that a larger number will be used this year. The railroads aid in furnishing the bags.

The employes in the shops are taking kindly to oat meal water.

Some of the men in the shops are taking their summer vacation.

Will Seybold, of the organ factory, will take a two weeks' vacation at Manchesnekes and Chicago.

If there are any class of men who want rain, it is those who are employed in the shops and on the railroads.

George Leeck has resigned his position in the Base machine shop to accept a place in the Pennington works.

All the manufacturing establishments use the water works freely in sprinkling this hot weather, and they need it.

Bert White, of the Pittsburg shops, who has been enjoying the cool breezes of the Michigan estimate, has returned.

Patrick Ryan was injured while working around a locomotive in the Pittsburg shops yesterday and had his ankle dislocated.

F. A. Anstrop, of the Wabash carpenter shop, had a finger of his right hand injured while at work yesterday and an amputation of the member was found necessary.

John Daley, one of the machinists in the Base works, is a fine singer and his melodious voice is heard so often that the boys have dubbed him "The sweet singer of Israel."

Harry Hayes, a machist in the Base works, is at Pankling, O., setting up two boilers and an engine at that place. Next Sunday he will be joined by Charley Taylor, a Pittsburg machinist, and the two will go on a wild goose chase through the woods of Pankling county.

During one of the recent extremely hot days the rails on the Grand Trunk railroad, expanded with the heat until they diverged nearly a foot and a half wider than the regular gauge. Luckily it was discovered by a section man in time to flag the east bound morning express, otherwise a serious accident might have taken place.

Hugh Hogan, one of the machinists in the Pittsburg shop, surprised his foreman and fellow workman this morning by setting the guides four inches too high and erecting the smoke stack upside down. Inquiry revealed the fact that a ten pound boy had arrived at his home yesterday, and Hugh is being congratulated on all sides.

W. H. Rodebeaver, the superintendent of White's wheel works, is driven to his work in a buggy every morning and returned home again every evening by his daughter, Miss Emma Rodebeaver, who is the accomplished stenographer at Olds' wheel works. Miss Emma knows how to handle the reins, as she also does the stenographer's pen and the type writer.

That popular Pittsburg machinist known in the shops as "Jockey" and a friend conceived the idea that yesterday, above any other day, would be the time and Rome City the place to hear "Our Bob" Ingersoll. In order that there happiness might be complete they forwarded the necessary dueats to their fair damsels at Elkhart in due time, so that nothing might deter them from being on hand also. Imagine their surprise and chagrin, however when the train from Elkhart pulled into Rome City with everybody seemingly aboard except their best girls, nor were they at that resort at all. If you want to see "Jockey" get on his ear just ask him if he heard Ingersoll in his celebrated lecture.

The Canal Question.

To the Editor of The Sentinel.

You are in error in saying that in the few remarks made at the special council meeting the other evening I advocated the purchase of the canal. I said I thought the question of an ample supply of water was one of great importance, which should be settled at once and permanently, that I was inclined to think the St. Joe river the most available source of supply. I confess I am considerably afraid, Mr. Editor, as to the actual visability of the purchase of the canal. In common with many of our citizens, I regret that this canal question, when ever it comes up, awakens only bad blood. It ought to be considered impartially. The canal owners are among the heaviest tax payers in Fort Wayne. Their interests cannot be very widely separated from those of the community at large. I believe they, and those of our citizens who think with them, conscientiously believe the best interests of the city would be secured by the purchase of the canal, and I have no question that other of our citizens are just as conscientiously opposed to its purchase. This being the case let us stop calling each other fools, ringsters and thieves and endeavor like sensible people and good neighbors to settle the question on its merits. D. N. FOSTER.

The young men's sodality of the Cathedral will have a big excursion to Rome City this month.

The funeral of the late Oliver H. Morgan occurred this afternoon, but too late for specific notice.

Mr. J. W. Hunter, the master of transportation on the Grand Rapids road, tells us there are 20,000 people at Rome City to-day.

The funeral of the child of W. P. Senick will take place to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock from the residence, 164 West Wayne street.

A horse trader is camped out on the river bank. A discharged employe tried to shoot him this morning and police protection was invoked.

The fruits of the refreshing rain this morning are ripening. John Young and Jane Mills, George R. Walker and Henrietta A. Ward, Joseph M. Rex and Sally Smith have been licensed to wed.

Mrs. Gottlieb Small, of Force street, is said to be dying from the effects of taking the wrong medicine which a south Calhoun street druggist put up for her. Dr. I. N. Rosenthal is treating the lady.

A little son of W. S. Harmon, the painter, fell down in the rear of his father's shop, this afternoon, and huge spikes protruding from a board penetrated the lad's face, inflicting awful injuries.

During the 4 ath of July Messrs. Tom Wannix and Alex Ormiston handled 19 362 pieces of mail matter at the Aspot transfer house. They are faithful and efficient public servants and as reliable as a clock.

The quarterly statements of the Old National and First National banks are published in this issue of THE SENTINEL and serve to show the solidity of the institutions. The citizens of Fort Wayne are justly proud of their banks.

Hon. J. K. Edwards donated a lot to the new M. E. church to be erected out near the new Pittsburg yards. The promoters have $3,000 cash besides and Rev. Mr. Cooper says that work on the new church will begin next week.

Mr. D. C. Fisher to day closed a contract with the Detroit Base Ball club to play the Fort Wayne "Mole" at the fair grounds in this city, Aug. 10. The Detroits come here from Chicago and go to Indianapolis. Mr. Fisher paid the prospective champions $300 to come here.

Chas. Newmeyer had the big toe of his right foot mashed in the Kerr Murray works this forenoon about 11 o'clock, while assisting in moving a heavy piece of machinery, by one end of it falling. Drs. Barnett and Van Buskirk were called who attended to the man's injury.

The Metropolitan base ball club plays a very strong amateur game and would have beaten the Columbia City club even worse had it not been for one of their players doing the baby act and "pouting" instead of hustling after the pig skin. He should stay at home with his mamma and not assume to play ball with men.

The business houses on Calhoun street, between Wayne and Berry, are deprived of water while the pipes are being replaced. Dr. A. Dodge was not to be out done and at Frank Falker's house of call he has a novel barrel contrivance to cool the beer and wines. He says he will sue Col. Geo. Ortlieb for infringement.

Rev. Sam Jones spoke at Rome City yesterday and the gate receipts indicated 15,000 on the island. Mr. Jones delivered one of his characteristic lectures and opinions differed widely as to the propriety of his language. He further shocked the good deacons by blowing a clear Havanna cigar into smoke in the evening. Mr. Jones passed through Fort Wayne on the midnight train, accompanied by his son, a mere lad.

Smoke the B. & O. cigar.

Daily Sentinel

THURSDAY, AUGUST 4, 1887.

GIVE the people of Fort Wayne cheap, pure water and plenty of it.

THE election figures in Kentucky come in with their old time rotundity.

THE Indiana democrats will endorse President Cleveland with no uncertain sound.

THE authorities ought to make it a point to enforce all the city ordinances or strike them off the records.

THE Business Men's exchange is doing good work. It has now taken hold of the water and natural gas questions.

THE civil service league seems to have been accumulating evidence. The trouble now is, how will they apply it?

THE city is forcing too many costly improvements on its citizens. It is time to call a halt for this season, at least.

MR. CLEVELAND seems to have survived the criticisms of the obstreperous wing of the late democratic editorial association.

IF the city can get its water supply pumped for $7,000 a year less than it now costs, it ought to accept the proposition and reduce the water rents accordingly.

IT is childs play to think of supplying the growing city of Fort Wayne, with its great industries and manufactories, from a few sulphur wells. The present supply from below the brewery is even better than the well scheme.

THE people of Fort Wayne pay higher water rents than are levied in any city of its size in the union. The water is measured out to most customers through miserly meters and in dry weather, when water is most needed, consumers are warned to use it lightly. Is this what the people of Fort Wayne entered into a partnership and mortgaged their property to construct water works for?

THE SENTINEL deplores that party management is intrusted to such men as Sim Coy, of Indianapolis, because they invariably involve an organization in trouble. We cannot, however, but congratulate the people of Indiana on the result of the trial of these local politicians for alleged alterations of the election tally sheets. In the first place the crime was not clearly within federal jurisdiction; in the second place it was a purely political trial and that feeling was permitted to protrude its serpent-like fangs from the judicial garments, while in the third place it adds new laurels to the jury system and shows that neither a partisan press, a partisan judge or a malignant counsel can override and blind the intelligence of twelve honest jurors, who can distinguish between political revenge and a crime against the election laws.

TWO ENGLISH sparrows were building their nests under the cornice in an angle of the Court House, in Parkersburg, W. Va., when another bird, a pugnacious cock sparrow squatter, undertook to take possession. A noisy fight ensued, which is thus described by the prosecuting attorney, who witnessed it: "The plucky claim-jumper was driven off half a dozen times or more, but returned to the attack and kept up the fight for half an hour or more, perhaps, when a dozen or more birds collected in the neighborhood of the nest, and when he came back again they seized him and by some means wound a thread or string about his neck and threw him over the edge of the nest into space. The bird fell and brought up at the end of the halter. As he could neither release himself nor find a spot on which to rest his feet he was perforce compelled to fly back to the nest. But around the edge was a cordon of birds who threw him back each time until, exhausted, he hung limp and lifeless, strangled to death. After the birds satisfied themselves of the marauder's death the reinforcement retired and the family went on building the nest. The bird was left hanging by the neck three feet below the nest, and still hangs there as a warning to other ornithological outlaws."

SAYS a Mexican mine owner: "We usually have trusty men who act as detectives. In this way we discover many strange devices to smuggle out the mineral. One day a detective came to me and said: 'When such and such men come out examine their sandals.' I had that done. On the bottoms of the sandals was what appeared to be mud, but when it was scraped into a pan and worked I found that it ran at the rate of $1,000 to the ton."

GEN. FRANCIS E. SPINNER, formerly Treasurer of the United States, is greatly enjoying life in his tent home on Pablo Beach, Fla. At 80 years of age he is as genial and hearty as ever, and welcomes hosts of visitors. He is a particularly successful fisherman, and envious rivals say that when worms are scarce he uses his signature for bait!

BASE-BALL IN INDIANAPOLIS.

A Game Mrs. McDuffy Could Not Understand.

There is one lady in Indianapolis who will probably never become an enthusiastic admirer of our national game, says the Detroit Free Press.

The individual to whom I refer is Mrs. McDuffy. I had the misfortune to occupy a seat adjoining hers during the opening game between the Detroits and the home club, and the following were the remarks on the occasion referred to:

"I don't see why some women can't understand base-ball. If there is anything about it that I can't see through it will be strange," she said to her husband. "Who are those big fellows over there?"

"Why, the 'big four,' of course," said he.

"O, yes, how stupid I am. I suppose that is Jay Gould watching the big four so closely. Didn't he say 'one strike?' He is responsible for those dreadful strikes, isn't he? Do you think the men will strike to-day?"

"Great heavens, woman, are you crazy? That is the umpire. Can't you keep quiet and watch the game?" he growled.

"Certainly I will," she said. "But where is the Detroit team? I haven't seen a team to-day any different from Indianapolis horses. Do they bring them right out here on the grounds? I should think they would get frightened in such a crowd as this and kick and cut up awfully. Do you think they will?"

"It is possible," he answered resignedly. "There are some kicking teams."

"I am so glad I am up here out of danger. What did that man do then?"

"Struck a foul——"

"Struck a poor, innocent fowl! The hateful thing! I didn't see any fowl. What kind was it? What are they cheering for?"

"Thompson caught a fly."

"Now, Mr. McDuffy, don't sit there and tell me you could see anything so small as a fly at this distance. Besides, it is too early for flies. What do they want to stop a game of base-ball to catch flies for, any way? Do tell me what that man is acting so silly about!"

"Trying to steal a base."

"The wicked thief! Where is the base?"

"Over there," explained McDuffy. "That is the first base, the other the second, and this one, nearest, the third."

"Are they, indeed, and that is the soprano in the middle, I suppose?"

"Ah, yes," groaned McDuffy, "you're getting it down fine."

"See, that naughty man has knocked the ball clean out of sight. Wasn't that mean! Don't you suppose they'll discharge him? What are they cheering for now? Making a home run? Well, I should think he would, and stay there, too, after such an exhibition of temper. What! Did you say they were going to whitewash them? Do they just whitewash them all over—face and all?"

"Ah," said McDuffy, savagely, "you've got it now. That's the way they fix them, and afterward calcimine them, and frescoe them, and dado them, and put on French roofs. How proud I am of you, Mrs. McDuffy. All you need is a whitewash brush to be a full-fledged member of the Lime Kiln Club."

"How funny you are, Mr. McDuffy. Did that man say they were giving the visitors goose eggs? Now, what do they want with goose eggs in a game of ball? It's getting worse and worse. I don't see what people go crazy over base-ball for, any way. I understand the game, as far as that is concerned, but there's nothing in it. If there is anything smart in bringing out thousands of people to watch them catch flies, and try to steal a base, and goose eggs, and muffs, and crack pitchers, and the Lord knows what else—I can't see it. The next thing they'll be bringing in that team and they'll kill somebody, and I don't propose to stay to see it. If you'll just see me to the carriage, Mr. McDuffy, I'll go home. I've had all the base-ball I want."

The disgusted lady departed, to the evident satisfaction of her husband, who soon returned to enjoy the remainder of the game in peace.

Telling Thieves by Measure.

A new method of identifying criminals has been adopted in the prisons of France, Russia, and Japan. It consists in taking the exact measurement of the person upon his coming to the jail.

His waist, the length and width of the head, the left middle finger, the left foot, the outstretched arms, the three other fingers of the left hand, the left arm from the elbow to the wrist, and the length and width of the ear are measured, and the color of the eyes and any peculiarities are noted down.

A photograph is also immediately taken, and by these means the many mistakes which have been made by trusting to a photographer only are avoided.

It is stated that habitual criminals, particularly English pickpockets, are so convinced of the infallibility of the method that they will on no account submit to the measurement, and offer violent resistance whenever the attempt is made to measure them.—Youth's Companion.

Coal Products.

There seems to be no end to the variety of new products from coal. It is but a short time since the discovery of a new saccharine substance was announced, excelling all others in the intensity of its sweetness, and now still another substance, which will be known as "pyrofuxin," which it is claimed may be economically used for tanning leather furin to the litre is announced. In its purified form it is a fine, non-triturable substance, without taste or smell, non-poisonous, and in appearance like catechu. Some Russian coals contain 15 per cent. pyrofuxin.

That Rarest of Combinations.

True delicacy of flavor with true efficacy of action, has been attained in the famous California liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs. Its pleasant taste and beneficial effects have rendered it immensely popular. Large bottles for sale by Thieme and Gross.

The Miser's Clutch.

"[illegible] money, but the money—hold!" he cried, "Not that! I cannot part with that" and died.

Pope's picture of the miser making his will is typical of avarice in its last moments, everywhere. Nothing is more pitiful than the impotent persistency of covetousness that has been the ruling passion of a life-time.

Some one has told, in the Lewiston (Me.) Journal, the story of Hugh M——, who died in Durham, forty years ago. He was a determined man and very penurious. He died at an advanced age. On his death-bed he kept his right hand closely clutched. As he drew his last breath he tightened his hold. Everybody there knew what he held. It was the key to the chest in which he kept his gold.

As his nerveless hands unclosed, the key dropped from them and clattered against the bedside. As if to hold it even after his soul had passed away, the miser had tied the key about his wrist by a strong cord and had grasped it as long as life remained. He had wanted to take his gold with him. They buried him just as he was, with the key to his money-chest dangling about his wrist, and to-day the key is in his grave, turned to rust probably.

"And what became of the gold?"

"Oh, the heirs took care of that just the same. They split open the chest with an ax and divided the gold and let the miser sleep on with the key about his wrist."

A peculiarity of Hood's Sarsaparilla is that while it purifies the blood, it imparts new vigor to every function of the body.

JUDGE no man because the disposition of his mind is not like your own.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Wrong

To imagine that the treatment of Constipation consists merely in unloading the bowels. The medicine must not only act as a purgative, but be a tonic as well, and not produce after its use greater costiveness. This is what Simmons Liver Regulator always does.

"As a general family remedy for Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the stomach and bowels." W. J. McElroy, Macon, Ga.

Believe us, when we tell you that most of the despondent feeling, the Blues, is the effect of a Torpid Liver, Indigestion, Weakness of Stomach, and Nervousness. A dose of Simmons Liver Regulator invariably relieves, cures and prevents a reoccurrence.

"I did Simmons Liver Regulator very safe, harmless and valuable as a family medicine, and have used it for any disorder of the system and have found it to act like a charm, and I believe that if it was used in time, it would prove a great preventive of sickness. I have often recommended it to my friends, and shall continue to do so." Rev. James M. Rollins, Fairfield, Va.

Simmons Liver Regulator is given with safety and with the happiest results, in almost any ailment, to the most delicate infant as well as to the adult. For all diseases in which a laxative, alterative, or purgative is needed, it will give the most perfect satisfaction. It is the cheapest, purest and best Family Medicine in the world.

Price $1. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared by J. H. Zeilin & Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

The treatment of many thousands of cases of those chronic weaknesses and distressing ailments peculiar to females, at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has afforded a vast experience in nicely adapting and thoroughly testing remedies for the cure of woman's peculiar maladies.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the outgrowth, or result, of this great and valuable experience. Thousands of testimonials, received from patients and from physicians who have tested it in the more aggravated and obstinate cases which had baffled their skill, prove it to be the most wonderful remedy ever devised for the relief and cure of suffering women. It is not recommended as a "cure-all," but as a most perfect Specific for woman's peculiar ailments.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womb. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a legitimate medicine, carefully compounded by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. It is purely vegetable in its composition and perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system. For morning sickness, or nausea, from whatever cause arising, weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia and kindred symptoms, its use, in small doses, will prove very beneficial.

"Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhea, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness in ovaries, accompanied with "internal heat."

As a regulator and promoter of functional action, at that critical period of change from girlhood to womanhood, "Favorite Prescription" is a perfectly safe remedial agent, and can produce only good results. It is equally efficacious and valuable in its effects when taken for those disorders and derangements incident to that later and most critical period, known as "The Change of Life."

"Favorite Prescription," when taken in connection with the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and small laxative doses of Dr. Pierce's Purgative Pellets (Little Liver Pills), cures Liver, Kidney and Bladder diseases. Their combined use also removes blood taints, and abolishes cancerous and scrofulous humors from the system.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

Large bottles (100 doses) $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

Some Old Folks.

Emanuel Cross, of Stoddard County, Missouri, is nearly 105 years old. He draws pension for services in Indian wars.

Francis Rondo, the Wisconsin pioneer who died recently at Fond du Lac, aged more than 100 years, left 454 descendants in three generations.

The oldest woman in Indiana is Mrs. Magdalena Boggs, of Milton. She was born near Lancaster, Pa., December 22, 1783, and is therefore nearly 104 years old. Her health is good.

The famous old Mr. Parr, of London, died at 155 from a surfeit of eating. Coming down to the present there are many instances of passing the century limit. Chevreul, the famous French chemist, celebrated the 100th anniversary of his birth a short time ago.

When are we old? Prof. Faraday holds that the duration of life in man and animal is five times the period of growth; man's growth requires twenty years; he should, therefore, under ordinary circumstances, live to be 100; infancy extending to the 20th year; youth to the 50th, when the tissues become firm; virility to 75, and old age from 75 to 100.

Walter Murray Gibson, late Premier of the Hawaiin Kingdom, is a man over 70 years of age, but hale and vigorous. Miss Howard St. Clair, a handsome California book agent, claims that the Premier has failed to keep a promise of marriage, and that the sum of $100,000 will just about quiet the throbbings of her more or less broken heart. An effort at a compromise is being made.

Mrs. Ellen Rodden, the oldest woman in Newark, died recently at her home, 39 Stone street. She was 105 years old. She came to Newark over fifty years ago. Mrs. Rodden had eleven children, and three sons and one daughter are yet alive. The youngest is over 45 years old. She was always a hard-working woman. She walked to church until about three years ago.

Dr. Farr favors 100 years for the tenure of life, but makes these divisions: Boyhood, 10 to 15; youth, 15 to 25; manhood, 25 to 55; maturity, 55 to 75; ripeness, 75 to 85, and old age from 85 upward. Prof. J. R. Buchanan places the attainable limits of longevity at 140, and he cites the fourteen people of that age found in Italy by a census under one of the later Roman emperors.

Nine hundred and ninety persons in a thousand would say that a baby in the cradle would be likely to live longer than a man of 65, but statistics prove indisputably that 500 in every 1,000 infants die before the age of 5 years as recorded, while out of 1,000 healthy men aged 65 more than 500 of them will be alive in five, aye, in ten years, or even a longer time. So it will be seen that a man of 65 may be considered younger than an infant as far as his chances of future life are concerned.

Mme. Candelaria, although 99 years old, is not only in full possession, but also the enjoyment, of all her faculties. She moves about her little house in Laredo street, San Antonio, as bright and as busy as a bee. She is held very dear by her townspeople on account of her romantic and heroic bearing during the siege of the Alamo in 1837 by the Mexicans, under Santa Anna. She nursed the wounded, and saw one and all of the noble defenders of the Alamo die. Col. Bowie died in her arms.

An Important Element

Of the success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is the fact that every purchaser receives a fair equivalent for his money. The familiar headline "100 Doses One Dollar" stolen by imitators, is original with and true only of Hood's Sarsaparilla. This can easily be proven by any one who desires to test the matter. For real economy, buy only Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sold by all druggists.

Modern Jerusalem.

The alleys, for you cannot call them streets, especially in the Jewish quarter, are filthy, dirty, paved with mud and slime. Dogs are met on every hand, poor, miserable curs, ever ready to seize on anything in the shape of food, from a cast off shoe to a stray bone. In the shops that line the narrow streets their keepers sit cross-legged with an assortment of souvenirs for travelers; pearls from the Red Sea, cut and polished at Bethlehem, shells from Acre, resurrection plant from Jericho, inlaid sandals, carved olive wood trinkets, seals of onyx, carnelian, jasper, or agate, with the Church of the Resurrection, the Mosque of Omar, the five crosses of the Franciscans the olive branch, star of Bethlehem, cut or painted in Hebrew, with Jerusalem "Mizpah," upon them, beautiful silver filagree from Damascus, olive or castile soap flavored with "spice of Arabi," paraffine candles, painted and ornamented in many colors, to be used in collecting and maintaining some of the "holy Greek fire" that will spring off the "holy sepulchre" the day before Easter. Last week the Mohammedans celebrated the feast of the ascension of the prophet, and annually many sons of Islam come here; many are still here to "look on with silent contempt the goings-on of the Christians." It is estimated that there are 75,000 strangers in the city—some for pleasure, but the greater number Christian pilgrims to participate in the Easter festival.—Rev. Ira Harris

Syrup of Figs.

Manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Co., San Francisco, Cal., is Nature's own true laxative. This pleasant California liquid fruit remedy may be had of Theime and Gross, druggists, large bottles at fifty cents or one dollar. It is the most pleasant, prompt, and effective remedy known to cleanse the system; to act on the Liver, Kidneys, and bowels gently yet thoroughly; to dispel Headaches, Colds and Fevers; to cure Constipation, Indigestion, and kindred ills.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. No fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

A Large City.

If any one were to walk one way through all the streets of London, he would be obliged to go a distance of two thousand six hundred miles, or as far as it is across the American continent from New York to San Francisco. This will give an idea of what would have to be done in order to see even the greater part of London.

In our approach to this city, as well as in our rambles through its streets, we shall not be struck so much by its splendid and imposing appearance as by its immensity. Go where we may, there seems to be no end to the town. It is fourteen miles one way, and eight miles the other, and contains a population of nearly four million people, which is greater, indeed, than that of Switzerland or the kingdom of Denmark and Greece combined. We are told on good authority that there are more Scotchmen in London than in Edinburg, more Irishmen than in Dublin, and more Jews than in Palestine, with foreigners from all parts of the world, including a great number of Americans. Yet there are so many Englishmen in London, that one is not likely to notice the presence of these people of other nations.

This vast body of citizens, some so rich that they never can count their money, and some so poor that they never have any to count, eat every year four hundred thousand oxen, one and a half million sheep, eight million chickens and game birds, not to speak of calves, hogs, and different kinds of fish. They consume five hundred million oysters, which, although it seems like a large number, would only give, if equally divided among all the people, one oyster every third day to each person. There are three hundred thousand servants in London, enough people to make a large city; but as this gives only one servant to each dozen citizens, it is quite evident that a great many of the people must wait on themselves. Things are very unequally divided in London; and I have no doubt that instead of there being one servant to twelve persons, some of the rich lords and ladies have twelve servants apiece.—Frank R. Stockton.

Distress After Eating.

This result of indigestion will no longer be experienced if Simmons Liver Regulator is taken after each meal. It is such a good digester, and so mild and pleasant in its effect that it is used by many, after a hearty meal, to insure good digestion. The regulator does not nauseate or irritate the stomach, but corrects acidity, dispels foul gases, allays irritation, and assists the stomach in its digestion.

The more you murmur against your cross, the greater its burden will be.

Delicate Children, Nursing

Mothers, overworked men and for all diseases where the tissues are wasting away from the inability to digest food, or from overwork; should take Scott's emulsion of pure cod liver oil with Hypophosphites. "I used the emulsion on a lady who was delicate. It put her in such good health and flesh, that I must say it is the best emulsion."—L. P. Waddell, M. D., Hugh's Mills S. C.

Do your duty in little things and you will be faithful in great ones.

I have been for several years a sufferer from hay fever and severe head colds, and have tried other remedies in hope of getting relief but have found none that can compare with Ely's Cream Balm. I would not be without it for any consideration. It is simply wonderful in its effect upon the nasal organs. S. A. Burtt, Wilmington, N. C.

I can cheerfully recommend Ely's Cream Balm to the suffering public for hay fever and stoppage of the air passages. I have tried it and find it gives immediate relief.—J. E. Rocke, 209 Rock Street, Little Rock, Ark.

CURED OF SICK HEADACHE.

W. D. Edwards, Palmyra, O., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from Costiveness and Sick Headache, and have tried many medicines, but is the only one that gave me relief. I find that one pill acts better than three of any other kind, and does not weaken or gripe." Elegantly sugar coated. Dose small. Price, 25 cents. SOLD EVERYWHERE.

FRUIT HOUSE PRICES FOR '87

Quite a change has taken place in a great many goods the last sixty days, the tendency being in most cases upwards. This is the case, especially in Coffee and Dried Fruits, Sugars, Teas, Syrups, Spices and Tobaccos, have not advanced, but from indications they will. It will pay our customers to purchase liberally.

Sugars—White and Yellow.

Yellow C Sugar, 5½c. Standard A Sugar, 6¼c. Granulated Sugar, 7c. Powdered Sugar, 7c. Cut Loaf Sugar, 7c.

NO ADVANCE ON TEAS,

Yet they will not likely remain at such low prices in the face of the large advance on Coffee. We continue to maintain our prestige in the Tea trade. Our trade has grown immensely in that line. People have no longer to send off to purchase their Teas. In order to save money we keep up the plan of buying in large lots of the importers and re-selling direct to our customers at a small profit, thereby saving to our customers the intermediate profits of jobber and wholesale dealer—which is not less than 10 to 20c.

Good, 15c per pound; choice, 30c; best, 50c. Imperial tea—Green, good, 30c; best, 50c. Gunpowder tea, 30c; best, 50c. Oolong or Black tea, 20c, 30c; best, 50c; Japan tea, 20c, 30c; best, 50c. Above prices on teas are the lowest on record and the best teas are of the highest quality—no better anywhere—the other grades are good, sweet, drawing teas and will please the most fastidious tea drinkers. Just give them a trial and satisfy yourself.

Coffee—Rio, Java and Roasted.

Best Rio coffee, 20c, per pound; best roasted Rio, 24c per pound; German coffee, 26c per pound; Housekeepers' Choice, 25c per pound; Dannemiller's, 26c, per cent.

He left this morning for Chicago, where he will enter the American institute of Hebrew, of which Wm. R. Harper, professor of Hebrew in Yale, is principal. Mr. Murlin will return to Fort Wayne this fall and take a position in Fort Wayne college.

Postmaster Keough submits this report of the work of the Fort Wayne offices and its eleven letter carriers for the month of July: Delivery trips daily, 32; collection trips daily, 32; registered letters delivered, 478; mail letters delivered, 114,411; mail postal cards delivered, 22,179; local letters collected, 3,743; mail letters collected, 43,541; local postal cards collected, 2,151; mail postal cards collected, 8,854; newspapers, &c., collected, 2,678; newspapers, &c., delivered, 60,469.

The new series of postage stamps soon to be issued will vary very little from designs now in use. The vignettes will not be changed at all, and the portraits on the new stamps will be identical with those now in use. The chief object of the change will be to make the new series of adhesive stamps conform to those embossed upon the envelopes now used from the department. To this end there will be several changes in the colors employed. The most noticeable of these will be in the 2 cent stamps. This is now brown. In the new series it will be of milori green.

Island Park assembly closes next Monday.

Mr. S. L. Morris was at Muncie yesterday.

Dr. Charles Stults has returned from Huntington.

The change of moon occurred and it brought rain.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Miller went to Duluth yesterday.

Receiver McNulta is entertaining his party at Put-in-Bay.

Mr. Lot S. Bayless is again very ill at Benton Harbor, Mich.

Editor T. P. Keator is writing up the gas interests of Elkhart.

The telephone exchange in this city averages nearly a thousand calls a day.

Sam. H. Burdette, of the organ factory, is visiting his old home at Erie, Pa.

Supt. W. W. Worthington and family are sojourning at Canandaigua, New York.

The Nightingale band was out serenading the residents of Irishtown last night.

Martin Fuller, of Fort Wayne, has just been granted a pension for army service.

The bright little son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Larwill, on East Berry street, is quite sick.

The Allen County Gun club has disbanded and Champion Watson holds the club medal.

Mr. Jim Flinn, the popular soap salesman, was tendered the freedom of the city to-day.

The Pittsburg and Fort Wayne road led in the east bound freight business last week, out of Chicago.

Mr. C. D. Strong, of Chicago, is in the city, the guest of Manager Charlie Tillo, of the Newspaper union.

Appearances would seem to indicate that many parts of the new sidewalk along Pearl street would be laid with old brick.

The Logansport Journal says: "Mr. E. Solomon, jr., the Fort Wayne cigar manufacturer, was at the New Barnett yesterday."

Mrs. George Ohnick is the guest of Mrs. W. H. Dreier, Mrs. Dennis Monahan and Mrs. Al. Noll at their Rome City cottage.

J. G. Holzworth, living near the organ factory, complained to the police last evening that tramps stole fifteen chickens from him.

The Huntington Herald says: "Misses Cobb and Pressler, of Fort Wayne, were the guests of their aunt, Mrs. Wm. Schwartz, over Sunday."

It cost the Whitley county sheriff a nice pile of money to land Downey and Yorkey back in jail. The Grand Rapids brakeman got $40 reward for their capture.

Mr. S. B. McManus read a poem before the Island Park Assembly Tuesday evening. It was well received, and Mr. McManus may take to the lecture platform.

"Mr. A. B. Nickey is again improving," says the Columbia City Post, "and the prospect for his complete recovery is better than at any time since he was operated upon."

It appears the right-of-way has not all been secured for the new Grand Rapids branch railroad from LaGrange to Orland, and the company are still calling for more money.

Peter Wright, a former Wabash brakeman, and a brother of Conductor Ed. Wright and Fireman James Wright, of Andrews, died the 12th of July, at Lagonia, Cal., of consumption.

There have been good rains in Illinois, Ohio and Kentucky since Sunday, but none worth mentioning in Indiana. This is manifest and unjust discrimination against the Hoosier state.

The Huntington Daily Herald published a list of over 120 new houses in process of erection there. The list includes several fine business houses, ranging in cost from $5,000 to $15,000.

Engineer James Hoyt, of the Wabash, was overcome by the heat while on the road, Monday, and was obliged to give up his run and return to Andrews, where he is at present unfit for duty.

A. A. Hathaway, who filled the position of foreman of the Andrews car department for a few weeks, this spring, is now in the service of the Wabash Western railway, with headquarters at Moberly, Mo.

The thirty-first annual session of the Lutheran synod of Ohio and Indiana has been in session at Huntington during the past week, and will close its session to-night. Some forty members of that denomination are present.

The second annual encampment of the second regiment, K. of P. of Indiana will be held in the city of Huntington August 26, 27, 28 and 29, 1887. Prize drills will be conducted on the last day for purses aggregating $800.

Passenger conductors on the Wabash have been warned by General Superintendent Wade to use all possible precautions to prevent any robberies and thefts on the sleeping cars of their train. They are urged to be extremely careful in every respect.

The new marriage law in the state of Michigan reads as follows: "It shall be necessary for all parties intending to be married, to obtain a marriage license from the county clerk of the county in which the man or the woman resides, and to deliver said license to the clergyman or magistrate who is to officiate, before the marriage can be performed."

Save your tickets! All three of the grand capital prizes will be drawn September 1, in case numbers 1,104, 1,930 and 907 are not presented before that time. Messrs. Sam, Pete & Max are determined that somebody shall secure these grand presents. The daily presentation of valuable gifts, the popular scheme of the day, and going the year round. No dull times at the Star, business booming, stock immense, prices way down. 30-1 d w-tf.

NEVER

Such an Opportunity as Now to Obtain the Very Best Values for Little Money.

—:o:—

No use Buying trash when such splendid values are going so cheap. We must, will and shall close out as many goods prior to our removal, October 1, as can be done, if letting down the prices to low ebb counts.

See here! Look at the figures! Compare the reductions!

Men's Laundried, colored Percale Shirts, two and three colars, extra cuffs, regular $1.50, $1.25 and $1.00 grades, some slightly soiled, all now at 69c.

$3.00, $2.75, $2.50 Felt Stiff Hats, (light or dark) all now $1.98.

Men's Summer Hats, 50c, 40c and 25c grade, all now 10c.

Men's Jeans Pants, at 50c, 75c, and $1; worth more.

Children's Suits $1, $1.50, $2.50 and up; worth nearly double.

Children's Short Pants, at 19c, 25c and up; cannot be matched.

In Men's Boys' and Children's Suits prices have been reduced, in many cases scarcely costing more than the material.

It pays to attend the grand clearance sale prior to our removal. Big reduction on short lots.

UNTIL OCTOBER 1, 1887.

Chief Diehl and his family are at Warsaw.

Fred Baade, the teamster, is much better to-day.

Frank Mensch, the mail carrier, is getting along nicely.

The cellar of George E. E. Bursley's new block is flooded.

The county commissioners are expected from Greensburg to-night and will be in session to-morrow.

Rev. Mr. Becher, of the Grace Reform church, is expected home to-night. He will be tendered a welcome social at the church parlors to-morrow night.

The residence of Mrs. Duffy, No. 98 Third street, Bloomingdale, caught fire this morning and was partially destroyed before the department got there. The loss is $150.

Fred Witte attacked Officer Wahrenburg on Fairfield avenue last night. He was locked up and this morning paid $11 for the fun. Wm. Thompson also paid a fine for indulging in a spree.

A child of Wm. Horstmeyer died last night, aged six weeks. The funeral is to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock from the house, No. 49 Gay street. Mr. Horstmeyer is a tailor with J. G. Thieme.

The Grand Rapids Democrat says: "Mrs. Seynor and Master Harry, of the Windsor hotel, of Fort Wayne, and Mrs. Darnell also of Fort Wayne, are visiting Mrs. J. A. Sanford, 260 Eighth avenue.

Mary Klein, a young miss from Woodburn, has been serving as second cook at the Rothman house. She was dismissed yesterday and celebrated the event by getting drunk. The police locked the damsel up and she is now in jail.

There is fresh evidence that the Wabash-Indianapolis, Peru and Chicago combination do not intend to pay their arrearages of $12,000 in the Indianapolis east bound pool. Investigation shows that P. H Scott, who represented the trustees of the Indianapolis, Peru and Chicago, never signed the pooling agreement, but that James Smith, traffic manager of the Wabash, did so. Now it is claimed that Mr. Smith, who is off the Wabash, had no authority to sign the pooling agreement, and neither the Wabash nor the L. P. & C. will take any steps to settle the questions at issue. Roads which paid up their percentages when they earned more than their allotted per cent, now wish they had acted as wisely as some of their competitors and kept their money in the company's treasury.

"Do you know how to get the worth of your money?" asked a young man of another. "Certainly, by buying B O's."

This is to certify that I had a policy on my building which was damaged by fire on the 31st day of July, 1887, in the German Ins. Co., of Freeport, Ill., issued by Conrad Nelrieter, agent. On the 2nd day of August, 1887, the loss was adjusted and paid cash, and for such promptness and dealing I voluntarily recommend the said company to all who may need insurance. And also would most heartily recommend Conrad Nelrieter for taking interest promptly and seeing the loss settled.

The Catholic Benevolent legion is going to have an excursion to Warsaw this month.

Captain Mariotte, of the "Mets," should have spanked that kid and sent him home.

A Pleasant Lake correspondent says: "The familiar face of Willie Schroeh, of Fort Wayne, has been seen behind the counter at Mosiman & Co.'s, the past week."
